

Hello Annie - Here Are Your Articles for Monday, September 11, 2017

Hobby vs. Business: Where Do You Draw the Line?

You buy and sell rare stamps: Is this a business or just a hobby? The answer can be complicated. Click through for an introduction to IRS guidance on the differences between a business and a hobby.

Life Insurance Trusts: Powerful Tax-Savings Vehicles

If an estate is large enough, it can get hit by federal and state estate taxes. Fortunately, a life insurance trust can let you plan around these taxes. Click through for an introduction to this useful estate planning tool.

It's Time to Organize Your Estate

No matter what age you are, it's not too early or too late to get a handle on your estate, to make sure it passes smoothly to your spouse, children, and any charities. Click through to learn how to get started.

A Shrewd Way to Give: The Donor-Advised Fund

Think of DAFs as halfway between a private foundation and a simple bank account. They can be very useful systems for the philanthropically minded. Click through to learn what DAFs are, and how they work.

Local Entertainment And Events Calendar

You'll always know where the fun's going on with our interactive local events calendar featuring social sharing, images, videos and ticket links. Click through to see what's happening or to add your own local events.

